Welcome to Fernwood

You've walked into Fernwood, a historic cemetery and funeral home set within Mill Valley's natural woodland. What began in the late 1800s as a traditional burial ground became one of the country's earliest green cemeteries, welcoming individuals of all faiths to gather and return to nature. Whether you're reflecting on your own final wishes or seeking to honor a loved one, we welcome you and offer this glimpse of what you may experience here.

All care at Fernwood takes place on-site, from cremations held in our peaceful crematory to personalized memorials in our luminous Remembrance Room. Families receive consistent, attentive care throughout and are gently guided as they take part in traditions new and old, and make the ceremony their own.

Outside our main building, natural burials take place within our sweeping burial grounds, where the land's wild beauty offers a peaceful setting for reflection. As a green cemetery, Fernwood honors those entrusted in our care and the land that holds them through dedicated land stewardship and conservation efforts.

Families choose Fernwood for a setting like no other, with a team dedicated to cultural fluency, continuous care, and meaningful memorial experiences. Our door is always open. Thank you.

Please Note: This General Price List is for those considering using our Funeral Home services. Our funeral packages are available only when the casket has been purchased through our funeral home. If you purchase the casket elsewhere, please select from the itemized list of services and merchandise to complete the funeral service of your choice. See the table below for a thorough overview of the options, and to select services à la carte, refer to our General Price List (page 9). As part of our commitment to eco-friendly practices, Fernwood pairs each cremation with the planting and long-term care of native trees in the Sierra Nevada through our partnership with veritree.
